The main task was to create websites. I used technologies such as Angular, React, Next.js, ChakraUI, MongoDB. Basically, I have a basic understanding of these technologies. While doing the task, I was also looking for a solution to this task.

SOFT SKILLS

Ready to learn something new

I learn something new every day. From technology in web development to self-development. So if you do not see me for about a year, then you may not recognize me.

Good Communication

I enjoy interacting with people and learning about their interests, history, and goals. That's why I have no problem finding common ground with everyone.

Responsibility

I like that quality in me. After all, if I take on something, I see it through to the end.
